WALKOUTS AN OLD POLITICAL CUSTOM

Make light of it, poke fun at it, try to laugh it off, but the "walk-out" has in the past and will in the future have a tremendous effect on the destinies of political parties.

This fact is brought to mind by the joint statement of Al Smith, former Governor of New York, and former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby demanding the "putting aside of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the substitution of some real Democrat."

DIRECT THREAT
The very nature of the statement carried the direct threat of a bolt, as it says if the anti-Roosevelt drive fails "then patriotic voters of all parties will know unhesitatingly to what standard they must rally in order to preserve America of the great leaders of the past."

HISTORIC WALKS
Both major parties have had bolts and walkouts in the past to rise up and threaten their very existence, and in the great majority of cases have been disastrous to the organization against which they were directed.

Those of voting age can remember without conscious effort when a Roosevelt took a walkout powder on the Republican party and ran it in twain. It is true that the great Theodore, by so doing, accomplished nothing in his own behalf, but he certainly did things aplenty to the G. O. P.

History also furnishes other notable examples in contradiction to the boast that "It Cannot Happen Here." When making such a declaration it might be well to recall several incidents in past political history.

Martin Van Buren took a walk when the Democrats picked Lewis Case. The Whigs selected General Zach Taylor.

Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" led to the greatest walkout of all time in parties.

Harbor Degree Work Is Staged By Police Team

The third degree was conferred last night when Harbor Lodge of Masons held its meeting at the Masonic hall.

The police degree team, headed by Police Chief L. E. Jones, had charge of the work. Herbert L. Hann, the master, presided. A banquet was served.

Prior to the meeting honor was paid to the memories of Ross Beatty and Joseph F. Brooks who died last week.

In the banquet hall, Fire Chief W. P. Cooper paid his respects to Police Chief Jones. Jones then introduced members of the police department.

Police Judge C. A. Odell was a speaker of the evening and he told of early life in Richmond.

Einar Rasmussen and Henry Schramm served the banquet.

Next Monday night the third degree will be conferred.

Bus Plan Is Endorsed By City Council

The proposal of the East Bay Terminal Railway company to establish a fast express service between this city and San Francisco, was endorsed by the Council at its meeting last evening.

S. L. Donlon, representing the operating department of the Southern Pacific company, asked that action be postponed for one week.

Mayor W. W. Scott told the railroad official that the city had been interested in better transportation for a long time, and he was in favor of acting on the proposal at this time.

The new service, when it is approved by the railroad commission, will start at Sixth and Macdonald, pick up passengers as far as the county line, and from that point will make a direct shot to San Francisco, over the new bridge, without stops of any kind.

GAS TAX MOUNTS
SACRAMENTO, June 22.—Continuing the steady increase which has prevailed for the past year, California's gasoline taxes for May will provide $3,677,425.18 according to an announcement made here today by Richard E. Collins, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

CITY DADS DEBATE BIDS TWO HOURS

After listening to arguments for over two hours from the attorneys for the different parties in the garbage question, the Council last evening awarded the contract for the next five years to the Richmond Scavenger company, determining that it was the lowest responsible bidder. The vote was 5 to 3.

City Attorney Tom Carlson was instructed to prepare a contract and it will be submitted to the Council for approval.

SUES LOOZ
But apparently the fight is not at an end, as Attorney Leo Martello, representing the Perasso Bros., stated that before Attorney Clifford Anglin, senior counsel in the case, departed for the East, he left instructions that if his client did not receive the contract, he had an injunction against the city.

Attorney Isaac Gallo, who represents Tony Mazza, whose bid was not considered a week ago, on account of being filed too late, also intimated that he would also file an action in behalf of his client.

CARLSON'S STATEMENT
City Attorney Tom Carlson, told the attorneys he would afford them every opportunity to file their actions, but took the opportunity to review the action of the council.

"When the council called for bids," said Carlson, "it stated it would award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. When the bids were received, and it looked like there was to be a controversy over the matter, and there was an indication that the question might reach the courts, I told the members of the Council, that if I was to defend any such action, that every honest effort should be made to ascertain who was the lowest bidder. I know this has been done. City Manager James A. McVittie has put in a great deal of work on this question. City officials were

Violators Of Parole Get Stiff Jolts

MARTINEZ, June 22.—Because the still, which officers seized in a house in San Pablo was not assembled proved fortunate for the three defendants who were arrested at the time.

The trio appeared in court today, but on account of the technicality involved it was decided to dismiss the charge against two of the defendants, Sam Buffo and Nello Monticello. Vincent Barise pleaded guilty and sentence will be imposed upon him tomorrow morning. It is understood that he will be fined either $250 or $300.

PAROLE VIOLATORS JOINTED

It was a tough day for parole violators in Judge Bray's court today. Following the disposition of the "still" case, Fred Bowman of Rodeo appeared on a charge of violating his probation. He was arrested a couple of months ago on charges of driving while drunk and was given probation. Picked up a short time ago on another charge of driving while drunk he had his probation revoked today and was sent to the county jail for six months on the original charge.

What the second charge will bring him in the way of penalty will be disclosed when he appears in court next Monday.

The other drunk driver who did not appreciate the leniency extended him was Fernin Cabral of Pittsburg who had his probation revoked today and was sent to the county jail for a period of eight months.

SUES FOR DAMAGES

MARTINEZ, June 22.—F. W. Weiss is named defendant in a suit for $10,000 automobile collision injury damages filed in Superior court by Regina Jacobs. The plaintiff claims that in an accident on the Fish Ranch road, on April 20, 1936, she suffered a broken collar bone, cuts about the scalp and other injuries. Judgment for medical expenses is asked in addition.

THREE QUIT IN ALAMEDA GRAFT ROW

ALAMEDA, June 22.—After Street Superintendent B. O. Bryant had appeared twice before the county grand jury investigating alleged irregularities in the city administration, he was tonight ordered held in the county jail by District Attorney Earl Warren. Investigators said Bryant told two conflicting stories when he appeared before the jurors.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Alameda city's stormy political feud reached an abrupt climax today and brought immediate Grand Jury action when three city officials resigned after charging City Manager B. Ray Fritz with collecting money from city employees.

Those whose resignations and charges caused District Attorney Earl Warren to suspend immediately the Alameda County Grand Jury's probe of liquor and tax irregularities in order to begin an

Skill Game Fees Set By E. C. Council

A license tax of $7,500 per annum for games of skill—presumably bingo, fascination and all the near relatives of those games—and $1,000 yearly for the first pin ball and marble machine and $250 per month for each additional machine in an establishment, was tentatively fixed by the E. C. Council at its meeting Monday evening.

Long hours were spent by the Council in attempting to finally determine the amount of license fee or tax that various businesses and professions should pay, but although progress was made, it was found necessary to defer the completion of the tax schedule until the regular meeting of July 6th.

Councilman Louis Navillier was in favor of a $5000 annual tax on the so-called games of skill but Mayor W. F. Huber thought it should be twice that amount, or $10,000. A compromise figure of $7,500 was finally agreed upon.

Other fees tentatively set were grocery and vegetable stores $10 per year, meat markets $10 per year.

Two Arrested On Charges Of Drunk Driving

MARTINEZ, June 22.—Arrested following an accident on the Franklin Canyon highway yesterday afternoon, Robert Prentice, 55, of 4345 South Hoover street, Los Angeles, was booked at the county jail by Highway Patrolman W. H. Kennerley on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Prentice's automobile allegedly struck one driven by Stanley Russo, 23, of 601 Chabola Terrace, Oakland. Joe Agredo of San Pablo was a passenger in Russo's machine.

W. A. Davis, 26, of Crockett, was booked at the sheriff's office last night on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, after his arrest on the Franklin Canyon highway by Highway Patrol Captain George A. Belon and Deputy Sheriff Al Davies. The arrest occurred about 10:30 o'clock.

RADICALS' VOTES TO BE SOUGHT

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—UP—Events of the last two days have forced the Democratic donkey to veer left and tonight he nibbled for November votes in the green pastures of radicalism.

The party's national convention opens tomorrow. Before this week is over President Roosevelt will be renominated and there will be adopted a platform designed to steal the thunder of the Lemke third party and win the Left-Wing vote for the New Deal.

CONSERVATIVES DESERT FOLD
Conservatives and the hard money men have deserted Democrats count the Al Smith votes lost, and the strategy of this convention will be to keep the Left-Right, the Shipsteads and the Norries in line to the New Deal can win the West.

Philadelphia's streets were canyons of bright hunting tonight, the orators gargled and practiced saying "a man who . . .", bands marched and hotel lobbies swarmed. But it was at a quiet little meeting in the convention hall that Democrats made their choice, and the command was "left turn!"

CHOICE IS MADE

There came before the Democratic national committee two delegations from Minnesota, heart of the agrarian West. It looked like another routine delegation content with each side contending it had been legally elected and that the other was made up of impostors. It

LOVELOCK IS A FAVORITE IN OLYMPIC RACE

BERLIN, June 22.—UP—Prophecy appears to be the Olympic Games approach.

No less a person than László Becali, Italy, winner of the 1,500-meter race at Los Angeles, is one of them. His prediction is concerned with the 1,500-meter event at Berlin. According to him, the finish line will be crossed by these athletes in the following order:

John Lovelock, New Zealand; Glenn Cunningham, U. S. A.; and Miklos Szabo, Hungary.

Why Szabo, Luigi does not say. The Hungarian's best times are 3:00 meters, 1:52; 1,500 meters, 3:52.6. His greatest triumph was winning the European championship over 800 meters in 1934.

In 1935, Szabo was slightly off-form. In the so-called Five-Country Meet, in which the track teams of Germany, Italy, Hungary, Sweden and Japan competed late last season at Berlin, he placed third in the 1,500 meters, trailing Becali and the German Schaumburg.

SILENT ON OWN CHANCES

Becali says nothing about his own possible chances. Whether he does this out of modesty or in order to observe good form probably will be seen soon. Since his 3:53.0 was the second best time for the 1,500 meters last year, he is sure to be an entry in the Berlin Games.

Strangely enough, Becali does not so much as mention Glenn Cunningham, though the American is one of the six athletes ever to go the 1,500-meter under 3:50. Does Luigi think history will repeat itself, and Cunningham in 1936 will fall outdone after a successful indoor season?

Venue figures, however, as one of the contenders for a medal in the 1,500-meter event in the prediction of another prophet, Hans Borowik, a German sports writer who has been following track and field sports for many years. If it comes to statistics and comparing times, Borowik cannot be beaten.

"DARK HORSE" PICKED

Paradoxically, another of Borowik's choices is prophet No. 1, the very Luigi Becali. But neither Becali nor Venke will win the gold medal, in his opinion.

Borowik's choice for first place is a "dark horse," young I. C. Wooderson, England, who last year twice defeated John Lovelock over the mile. Hard pressed, the 20-year-old Britisher can do much better than the times he attained last season, Borowik argues. All he was doing then, was to win. Times and records did not concern him.

Last, but not least, among the prophets for the Olympic 1,500-meter event is Paavo Nurmi himself. He thinks his countryman, 23-year-old O. Telleri, whose best time is 3:54.8 will be among the first three at Berlin. Which of the three, and who the other two might be, the wise man declines to reveal.

Civil War In China Impends

CANTON, June 22.—UP—Nanking government troops, under orders to suppress anti-Japanese forces in the autonomous provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi have advanced to the Kwangsi border, the southwest political convention announced today.

Movement of the Nanking army, estimated to number 300,000 men, threatened to plunge the republic into a bloody upheaval. Leaders of the Canton anti-Japanese forces, recently withdrawn from Nanking territory, to avert civil war after they had started a northward march to declare war on Japanese garrisons in North China, said they would throw the full weight of their army against the Nanking troops if their territory is invaded.

AAA Payments To County Firms

MARTINEZ, June 22.—Two firms operating in Contra Costa county received Triple A payments for crop curtailment. It has been revealed in a report Secretary Henry Wallace has submitted to Congress upon demand of Senator Vandenberg. The report shows that $2,318,129.69 was paid out in this state for production curtailment and 112 payments were for amounts in excess of $10,000 a year.

H. P. Garin company, operating at Brentwood, was paid $21,359 for curtailment of beet production in Contra Costa and Sacramento counties. California Lands, Inc., was paid $5,092 as producer plus $15,056 for eight tenants for beet curtailment in Contra Costa and four other counties.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Oral pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic. Plantax is a good liver tonic. It cleanses the digestive system of all food secretions and at the same time restores the torpid liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedies—that act in a mild, easy way without "overdoing" or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large size 50¢. 10¢ and 25¢ sizes also.

PLAY OPENED IN BERKELEY TENNIS MATCH

BERKELEY, June 22.—UP—Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, seeded number one player, advanced into the third round of the California State tennis championships here today with a 6-0, 6-0 victory over Margaret Haskell, San Francisco.

Donnie Miller Blank, Los Angeles' eighth and second seeded player, gave Helen Grendall of Los Angeles only one game in the first set to advance to the third round in the women's singles division.

The only near upset of the day was in the boys' doubles when Harper Ink of San Diego and Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles pushed the seeded number one players Frank Kovacs and Jack Smetzer of Berkeley to two hard sets before losing, 7-6, 6-4.

Jack Gurley, Sacramento star, went into the third round of the junior division by defeating Bob Baker, Berkeley, 6-2, 6-1.

Little Dorothea Wightman of Boston, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, donor of the trophy bearing her name, turned back Norma Speelman of San Francisco in a feature girls' match, winning 6-0, 7-5.

Mrs. Helen Willis Moody of San Francisco will make her first appearance in the State championships tomorrow when she plays in the mixed doubles. Mrs. Moody is teamed with Edward G. Chandler of Berkeley.

Aliens Are Denied Liquor Sale Permit

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—UP—The State's right to deny alien Japanese the privilege of dealing in liquor was upheld by Superior Judge Ruben Schmidt in a decision on file in Superior Court.

A group of Japanese cake operators in Santa Monica had sought a writ of mandate, declaring they were denied the right to engage in lawful business as provided under the commerce and navigation treaty negotiated between the United States and Japan in 1911.

year the company reported a net operating loss of $34,360.89.

MISSING VET FOUND SLAIN AND ROBBED

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—UP—Two women and one man were questioned by police tonight on suspicion of murder in connection with the slaying of Herman M. Jacobs, 40 year old World War veteran, whose body was discovered in an isolated field.

Jacobs drew bonus checks totaling $800 last week, according to police. His body was stripped of cash when it was found.

THREE ARE HELD

Captain H. J. Wallis of the Central homicide detail said the persons questioned gave their names as Mrs. A. Caroline Lindahl, her 18 year old daughter, Virginia, and a friend of the daughter, Les Ramez.

Mrs. Lindahl admitted to police her daughter had known the victim, Wallis said, but denied she had any knowledge of the killing.

DRAWN FROM CAR

Jacobs apparently was dragged from an automobile which veered off the road into the field. Police said he had been beaten to death at some other place. His skull was crushed and his shoulders covered with bruises.

Condition of the man's clothes indicated he had been dragged some distance, and the body tossed beside the tracks of an interurban railway, presumably to give the impression he had been struck by a train.

Papers found on the body indicated Jacobs was a jewelry worker. The car in which he was brought to the field was parked beside the road, 200 feet from where the body was found.

Change Made In Sending Of Warship Here

Officials of the Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday received word that due to a change the U. S. S. Wickes will visit Richmond on July Fourth, instead of the U. S. S. Dorsey.

The Dorsey was originally scheduled to come here for the celebration but the commander of the battleship was forced to make a change and send the Wickes here instead.

The destroyers' officers and crew will participate in the celebration.

Crew of 1000 Fighting Grass Fire At Gilroy

GILROY, June 22.—UP—One thousand men tonight battled a brush and grass fire raging five miles west of Gilroy.

The flames were approaching Hecker Pass, where it was believed it would be nearly impossible to bring it under control.

The fire fighters included members of the Gilroy rural fire department, a state fire suppression crew from Morgan Hill and 50 Almaden CCC workers.

Another crew of 100 CCC workers were ordered to stand by in case they were needed. It was impossible to estimate accurately the number of acres which were burned over, but officials said a "large area" had been affected.

Mrs. Alice Decker Taken By Death

Services were held in Oakland yesterday for the late Mrs. Alice Wren Decker, former Richmond woman who died at her home in Berkeley on Sunday. Mass was said at St. Mary Magdalene church and interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Decker was a pioneer resident here, coming to Richmond in 1901 from San Francisco. Her husband, Dr. J. Henry Decker, was the first local dentist. He is now practicing in San Francisco.

Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by two daughters, Dr. Kathryn L. Decker Nelson of Berkeley and Mrs. Gladys Larnach, former Standard Oil company employee. Both daughters are Richmond union high school graduates.

and into a unified organization—the Republican party.

Thirty-eight years later Secretary of State James G. Blaine walked out on President Harrison, starting a convention that made the defeat of Harrison certain.

When the Democrats picked Stephen A. Douglas and adopted a Douglas platform the convention divided, the Northerners adjourning to Baltimore from Charleston and the Southerners going to Richmond. The bolters nominated John C. Breckinridge.

The Republicans in the meantime met in Chicago and the immortal Abraham Lincoln was nominated.

Five illustrious men, a quintet which has had no mean hand in shaping the destinies of the Democratic party, cannot be laughed off as of no consequence. Their walk-out, and that is what it will be (as it is silly to suppose that the Philadelphia convention, meeting today, will do otherwise than re-nominate President Roosevelt) is bound to have an important bearing on the November election. Each of these men has a considerable following in his own state, particularly Al Smith. It makes little or no difference whether they support the Republican nominee or form a party of their own—they will weaken the Democratic ticket.

MORE TROUBLE

The formation of the Union Party headed by Congressman William Lemcke is another fly in the Democratic ointment, for the movement is nothing more or less than a Democratic bolt or walkout. There will be some Republicans who will enroll under the new standard, but political statisticians estimate that 80 percent of the strength which the new party will muster will be drawn from Democratic ranks. With Father Coughlin's following being augmented by the Townsendites and the Share-The-Wealthers there is created a formidable force which cannot but help be figured in the final reckoning.

NEED REVISION

All indications now point to the necessity of Jim Farley revising his prediction that Roosevelt will carry all the 48 states, for the situation cannot be disposed of any longer by a wave of the hand. Mr. Farley has a man's sized job on his hands and he will not improve the chances of his candidate by issuing statements which any political tyro cannot but know are ridiculous.

ONE SHOT, FIRE CHIEF INJURED AT BRENTWOOD

BRENTWOOD, June 22.—UP—Brentwood citizens shook their heads tonight and lamented the toll of the annual spring festival.

They reported two persons seriously injured and in hospitals, one hit and run automobile accident on which they had no details, three persons sought for assault, one escaped prisoner, and the deputy town constable facing suit for shooting an innocent person.

The innocent person shot was Charles Oakley, 14, who was taken to the county hospital at Martinez for treatment for bullet wounds through his face.

Oakley was shot, according to reports, when Deputy Constable Tom Johnson was taking a prisoner to jail for disorderly conduct. The prisoner broke loose and Johnson fired a warning shot. Oakley was said to have been struck by the bullet when it went wild.

Ray Wallace, chief of the town volunteer fire department, was taken to the Demerol hospital in serious condition when beaten by three men, whom he accused of assaulting his wife when they were turning home from a dance. Wallace was said to have been struck over the head with a beer bottle.

His assailants fled but officials said they believed they could identify two of them and started a wide search.

Parents of Oakley were said to be preparing to file a suit for damages against the City of Brentwood against Johnston for shooting their son. He will recover.

DIET AS AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN EVERY DISEASE

While health is a natural condition of the body, it is true that there are very few people who may truly say that they are enjoying perfect health. It is folly for one to look outside of himself to find the cause of any disorder, while it is the height of wisdom to realize that he is sick because he has lived a certain way.

Any child can understand that the body is made out of what it eats and drinks. Mistakes, such as eating the wrong things, eating too much, and improperly combining foods, are the greatest causes of disease.

In order to show you how diet plays such an important part in causing disease, I am going to give you a short list of the common disorders, and explain how diet is a potent factor in the cause of each one:

ACNE: is a skin disorder manifested by blackheads and pimples, appearing on the face and back and the principal cause is the use of greasy and sweet foods. The body attempts to eliminate some of the excess through the skin, producing an inflamed skin condition which is most readily cleared up by reducing the sweets and fatty foods to the minimum.

ANEMIA: or a lack of red blood cells, is frequently due to the fact that not enough food iron is used and this is, in turn, caused by a deficiency in the diet of the vital green vegetables which will supply iron in a form which is readily assimilated. The patient with anemia has often formed the bad habit of excluding the vegetable from the diet, filling up on highly refined foods which do not supply the food minerals required to build healthy blood.

APPENDICITIS: is brought on by colitis or intestinal irritation, due to chronic constipation from faulty dietetic habits.

ASTHMA: is characterized by difficult breathing and is largely produced by catarrh from the mucus-forming foods, and by excessive pressure against the diaphragm from excessive food fermentation.

AUTO-INTOXICATION: is a blanket term for a general toxicemia created by various dietetic indiscretions, and is often called "The Mother of All Diseases."

BILIOUSNESS: is a common symptom produced by using more heavy food than the body can make use of, which throws too much of a burden on the liver, causing this organ to become torpid.

BLOOD PRESSURE: high blood pressure is due to an increase in the tension of the arteries and a common cause is the use of too large a quantity of starch. When the starch is cut to the minimum the blood pressure frequently becomes lower with no other measure being used.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE: is a kidney disease resulting from careless habits of living which place a heavy functional strain on the kidneys. Relief from the symptoms of this disorder is gained most quickly from dietetic treatment than from any other form of therapy.

BRONCHITIS: and all similar derangements of the mucous membrane which lines the breathing passages, are the result of too liberal a use of the mucus-forming foods, such as sugar, starch and fats. The underlying catarrhal inflammation which is the basic cause will continue until the diet is changed.

CONSTIPATION: is developed from several causes, chief of which are the use of too much refined food, and a deficiency in the diet of the foods providing bulk such as vegetables and fruits. Constipation can not be overcome until the patient uses these foods in abundance which provide the colon with roughage upon which to work.

DEAFNESS: when not of accidental origin, is due to catarrh of the nose and throat, and this in turn, is brought about by wrong food. In tomorrow's article, I will discuss some more common diseases in relation to diet. Watch for the article.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Chlorophyll)
Question: Student writes: "There is a substance in plants and vegetables which make them 'green.' Will you kindly tell me the name of it?"

Answer: You are thinking of chlorophyll, the natural pigment in vegetables and plants which imparts the green color to a green or lesser degree, its action being dependent upon contact with sunlight. For instance, celery and asparagus are "bleached" by having the light shut away during their growth.

(Enema)
Question: K. L. B. asks: "Is the enema the correct thing if the intestine does not move?"

Answer: The enema is the best remedy I know of, and is indicated for one who is troubled with constipation. Enema how to give constipation, but continue to take the enema until your intestines are in normal condition.

(Food Elements of Gelatin)
Question: Mrs. Brown writes: "Will you please tell me the food elements of gelatin?"

Answer: Gelatin is a form of protein, very beneficial to the body as a food. You will find it advantageous to include it in the diet quite often.

(Internal Trembling)
Question: Mrs. I. G. asks: "Will you please tell me what causes internal trembling of the nerves?"

Answer: The trembling you write of is usually produced by the pressure from excessive gas on the solar plexus or other nerve centers of the abdomen.

BALANCED BILL OFFERED FOR BANK NIGHT

"Road Gang" a dramatic thriller that rivals "Fugitive From a Chain Gang," and "Dancing Feet," hilarious musical romance, are the two features playing at the Fox theater today for Bank Night.

"Road Gang" is a melodramatic thriller, starring Donald Woods and Kay Linaker. It teems with moments of intense dramatic suspense and stark realism that stir the blood to boiling point and yet combines a wistful element in the story of a girl who saves her imprisoned lover.

"Dancing Feet," an adaptation of the best selling novel by Rob Eden, is the story of a beautiful young society girl who quarrels with her wealthy grandfather, and takes a job as hostess in a cheap dance hall, where she carries on an amusing romance with a young man whose ambition is to become a radio dance instructor.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, June 22, (U. P.)—Cary Grant wants to hide his handsome face behind a Lon Chaney make-up—true to the Hollywood tradition that all actors want to be something they aren't.

Charlie Chaplin wants to play Napoleon. Straight men want to be comedians. Comedians want to be actors. Stars want to be character actors and Grant wants to be a "modern Chaney."

"I never wanted to be a leading player," I came to America as a pennantist but pantomime is little known in this country and I had to earn a living.

I turned to the stage—musical comedies—but I didn't get what I wanted. I had hoped for character roles. Instead I was handed straight leads. I realize straight leads often lead to stardom but I have no ambitions to become a star.

"Straight leads get you nowhere. The public tires of the same handsome faces. But have you ever seen the public turn thumbs down on character actors like Lon Chaney, or Lionel Barrymore?"

"Character roles are more varied, more fun. Today, horrid makeup tricks are not necessary. The present day version of the Chaney roles can be accomplished with a normal face, a change of voice and hair-cut, even with clothes and a variation in carriage."

Warren Hull is another leading man who voices similar sentiments. "They won't let me sing," says Hull, whose rich baritone voice brought him to Hollywood from Broadway musical comedies and radio. He starred in "Rain or Shine" and also "The Student Prince," but when signed by the movies was given straight leads.

Walter Pidgeon also wants to do something else—and says he can. He wants to burst out in song like, but recently he has been playing villains.

Chief arguments centered around these three issues: (1) Monopoly; (2) Currency; (3) Amendment to the Constitution legalizing minimum-wage and minimum-hour laws.

The last, loaded to the hilt with political dynamite, has caused sharp inner circle debate. One group of Democratic Congressional leaders has flatly opposed any Constitutional amendment. Meeting secretary in the Senate Office building last week, they argued that an amendment would only furnish the Republicans with anti-New Deal ammunition.

On the other hand, Senator Wagner, principal author of the platform favors a strong stand for labor legislation. Other advisers point out also that London's "if necessary" pronouncement in favor of a Constitutional amendment would be a blow to the Republicans.

Nation Of Boarders

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT speaking at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, when he bluntly warned that unless monopoly was curbed the United States would become a nation of boarding houses instead of homes.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

PHILADELPHIA, June 22—Assembled Democracy has to do just three things in this City of Brotherly Love:

(1) Change the two-thirds rule; (2) adopt a platform more appealing than the Republicans; (3) keep the Convention going long enough so that the city boosters who put up $250,000 to bring the Democrats here can get it back again.

The nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt will come along after all this is over, and it is purely incidental. Of these objectives, the first two—the two-thirds rule and the platform—will be the hardest.

Thanks to Edgie Dowling's array of radio and theatrical entertainment, plus a carefully arranged schedule of procrastination it will be fairly easy to stall the Convention along for five days.

MAGIC PLATFORM To all outward appearances, the platform will be equally easy. It will be pulled from the magic sleeve of Senator Bob Wagner and adopted without debate.

But this is only because long hours—in fact, several weeks—of preparation have already gone into the platform. Unlike the Cleveland Convention, where the platform was pulled back and forth between London and Old Guard forces, the new word in the Democratic platform depends on one man—Roosevelt.

Nevertheless, back in Washington where the platform really was written, there was plenty of behind-the-scenes argument among the President's advisers. And one of the most important factors was identical to the one that bothered Cleveland—the desire to please the Lion of Judah, William E. Borah, and, if possible, induce him to "take a walk."

Chief arguments centered around these three issues: (1) Monopoly; (2) Currency; (3) Amendment to the Constitution legalizing minimum-wage and minimum-hour laws.

The last, loaded to the hilt with political dynamite, has caused sharp inner circle debate. One group of Democratic Congressional leaders has flatly opposed any Constitutional amendment. Meeting secretary in the Senate Office building last week, they argued that an amendment would only furnish the Republicans with anti-New Deal ammunition.

On the other hand, Senator Wagner, principal author of the platform favors a strong stand for labor legislation. Other advisers point out also that London's "if necessary" pronouncement in favor of a Constitutional amendment would be a blow to the Republicans.

On the question of currency, the Democrats are getting right down to brass tacks with Senator Borah. Knocking how miffed he was at the way London put over his "gold dollar" telegram after the platform was adopted at Cleveland, Roosevelt emissaries actually have shown Borah a copy of the tentative currency plank.

This is what they showed him: "Gold serves as a convenient medium for settling temporary balances between nations, but to return to the old free gold standard is to invite monetary chaos and national disaster."

Restrictions On Relief Jobs Are Now Eliminated

WASHINGTON, June 22—Putting much of the responsibility for administering the new WPA program in the hands of State administrators, Harry L. Hopkins today directed them to select relief workers from the unemployed on relief or those certified as "in need of relief."

Quotas fixing the number of workers and the amounts to be spent in each State will be fixed shortly, officials said, adding that WPA would provide an average of 2,300,000 jobs during the 12 months beginning July 1.

This program, contrasting with the peak of 3,038,973 WPA workers at the end of last February, will permit only a few thousand not now employed by WPA to obtain jobs, officials said.

2 Must Return Cash To Peach Growers' Group

OAKLAND, June 22—UP—In one of the first judgments of its kind ever given, Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church today ruled that A. D. Porretto and E. R. Williams, former directors of the California Canning Peach Growers' Association must return to the association $23,251.66 assertedly overpaid them.

Attorneys for the defendants said they would file an appeal from the decision.

On the question of currency, the Democrats are getting right down to brass tacks with Senator Borah. Knocking how miffed he was at the way London put over his "gold dollar" telegram after the platform was adopted at Cleveland, Roosevelt emissaries actually have shown Borah a copy of the tentative currency plank.

This is what they showed him: "Gold serves as a convenient medium for settling temporary balances between nations, but to return to the old free gold standard is to invite monetary chaos and national disaster."

We pledge continuance of sound money, with steady purchasing power of the dollar which will do justice not only as between present debtor and creditor, but between all who make commitments for the future in terms of the dollar.

Borah told his callers that if the Democratic platform contained such a plank he would give it his public endorsement. This plank was taken by the President for study over the week-end.

On Monopoly, the New Deal master minds plan to go all the way with Borah. In fact they are even considering Billie's verbatim plank which the Senator tried to have incorporated in the Cleveland platform. The Republican plank-writers eliminated the second paragraph, dynamite loaded—from their monopoly section. The New Dealers now propose using it. Here is how it reads:

"We favor a declaration by law of the conditions upon which corporations shall be permitted to engage in interstate trade, including among other things, the prevention of holding companies beyond the second degree, or interlocking directorates of stock, watering, discrimination in price, of price fixing, and of all monopolistic practices which may be defined by law."

Borah told the Democratic emissaries that he wanted a red-hot anti-monopoly platform. And he will get it. He has just as keenly on the subject as Borah does.

It will take quite a bit to induce the Lion of Idaho to take a walk, but Roosevelt strategy is laying the foundation for it.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, June 22—Women here may be expected to break out at any moment with hats and gloves made of woven glass. Mildred Hunt, stage star, has just brought the first siliceous ensemble over from Paris. It's one way to produce a glowing impression.

Daniel Friedman, octogenarian dean of producers, sleeps throughout most of the year on a balcony outside his apartment atop the Lyceum theater. Irving Berlin and his wife, the former Ellen Mackay, are the proud parents of a new baby girl. This romantic marriage, which united Fifth Avenue with the lower East Side ten years ago, has proved so, presently successful.

Paul Windels, city corporation counsel, has just revealed that a Queens official obtained about $140,000 in condemnation awards for $8,000 worth of Flushing meadow land he bought thirteen years ago. America, you see, is still the land of opportunity.

TRAGEDY—The pos man, laden down with government gold, started their merry round on the first day of the bonus distribution, and in due course came to visit Harry Kelley, 43-year-old superintendent of an apartment house on West 143rd street. In Kelley's joyous hands they placed $1,500 worth of rock-ribbed bonds.

Bubbling with elation, Kelley finished his immediate chores, carefully placed the bonds in his pocket and hurried off to the nearest bank. There he descended into the depths of the steel vaults and deposited the windfall for safekeeping.

It was 10 P. M. when he got back to his house. Still floating along in a mist of exultation, he missed his footing on a stairway, crashed down on the cement floor and injured his head. It didn't seem serious, and after applying damp cloths to the swelling, he went to sleep.

The next morning they found war veteran Kelley dead in bed. MULTIPLE—Joe Weiss, who is Al Godman's arranger, rushes in to tell me that "Quint" is not only one of the Dionne youngsters, but is also the name of a certain stop on a pipe organ—called "Quintadena"—in full.

What Joe forgot to say was that the "Quint" is also technically known in organ-building as a "combination" stop—which proves that nature is always right.

"I won't say a word to him," Hennessey promised. Mrs. Jay took him back to her office. As he signed the white form sheets Mrs. Jay realized what an informal way she was taking to let an inmate leave. But there was a son who really wanted his father to go home with him. She would take the responsibility of letting him go.

"You have a good home for him?" Mrs. Jay asked. "Yes, a home near the tavern, with a kitchen, garden and a hen-coop."

"Perhaps Mr. Hennessey will be better off if he has something to do," Mrs. Jay smiled slyly. "He has been on a hunger strike for days here, and has wasted away to nothing."

The elder Hennessey spoke. "It was only because I wanted to go back to my own people," he apologized. "I was ready to die if I couldn't."

LOCAL COUPLE MARRIED HERE ON SATURDAY

Miss Hilda Hutchings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hutchings, of McBryde avenue, became the bride of Frank Davilla, son of Mrs. Clara Davilla of San Pablo at St. Paul's church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Tozzi officiated at the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Melto, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents later in the evening. The young couple left for a short wedding trip to Yosemite. On their return they will be at home to their friends on Garvin avenue.

The bridegroom is employed at Hercules Powder company at Pinole.

KNIGHTS LODGE WILL ATTEND OAKLAND MEET

Motion pictures furnished thru the courtesy of an automobile firm were shown last night when Richmond Lodge of Knights of Columbus held its meeting at the Memorial hall.

M. M. Dowling, the grand knight, was chairman of the evening.

Many members will attend a reception to be held in Oakland on July 1 in honor of the state officers. George Ross, the newly-elected grand knight will preside at the July 13 meeting. There will be a program and banquet.

ONE KILLED, 7 ARE HURT IN LOCAL MISHAPS

Seven persons were injured in automobile accidents here on Sunday and one person died at a local hospital from injuries suffered when he was hit by a train.

The dead youth is Sanford Taylor, 17, of 1619 Thirtieth avenue, Oakland. He died en route to a Martinez hospital from two broken legs and a fractured skull sustained when he was struck by the Overland Limited, bound from Chicago to San Francisco, near Crockett on Sunday night.

Taylor and two companions, Stewart Beaubien, 16, of 974 Twenty-first street, Oakland and his brother, William Taylor, 18, had gone to Seattle to seek work on the Alaskan fishing fleet. Unable to find a job they were hiking home when the accident happened.

The boys were waiting along the tracks for an Oakland-bound freight train when the Limited passed. Apparently Taylor was standing too near the train and he was knocked down. Members of the train crew loaded the injured boy and his two companions on the train and brought them to Richmond. A physician and Kratzer ambulance took the injured boy to the hospital where he died.

The dead youth leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor and two brothers, William and Jerry, of Oakland and a sister, Beatrice, of San Francisco. His body is at the Wilson and Kratzer chapel.

Four persons were injured in an accident near Pinole when cars driven by John Ivanovich, 22, of Pinole, collided with a machine driven by John Bosanoff, 25, of San Francisco.

The injured were Mrs. Colleen Anderson, 26, her husband, George Anderson, 36, both of Sacramento; Mrs. Alice Taylor, 30, of Los Angeles and John Puotit of San Francisco. Neither of the drivers was injured. Passing motorists brought the injured to a local hospital.

Three persons sustained injuries when a car driven by W. K. Apple, 610 Twenty-first street, collided with a machine driven by Ralph Waters, 21, of Martinez on the highway just north of the city early Sunday morning.

The injured were Waters, Miss Annabelle Mesina, and Miss Marie Mesina, all of Martinez. They were treated at a local hospital for cuts and bruises.

S. F. PRIEST IS HELD CAPTIVE IN MANCHUKO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—UP—Headquarters of the Roman Catholic Maryknoll Mission Society revealed tonight that Manchukuan bandits were holding the Rev. Father Clarence Burns, M. M., a native of Toledo, Ohio, for $1,500,000 ransom.

The Rev. William T. Cummings, M. M., superior of the Maryknoll Fathers in the West, said no attempt would be made to raise that amount of money. "A definite policy of refusal of all such demands is agreed upon by Catholic missionaries because the contrary would only encourage lawlessness," Father Cummings said.

Father Burns went to the Orient from San Francisco, after his graduation from the Maryknoll Seminary at Los Altos, Cal. in 1933. Less than three years later, while making a trek call near Tungchia in the interior of Manchukuo, he was seized by bandits.

Reports received by mission headquarters showed he was captured February 5 this year.

A ransom letter, signed by Father Burns, was delivered to the Maryknoll authorities sometime after the seizure.

"It is quite likely that Father Burns signed the letter and allowed it to be sent to his mission superior merely to assure him he is alive and in good physical condition," the western superior of the order said.

More definite news of Father Burns is expected within 10 days.

Veteran Police Officer Found Dead In Auto

SAN JOSE, June 22—UP—Jack Edward Dundon, 31, a San Jose policeman for nine years, committed suicide in Alum Rock Park here today, police reported.

The body was found in Dundon's automobile. There was a small automatic pistol near the officer's hand and it is believed he shot himself when fumes from his exhaust, led into the car by a rubber hose, failed to act quickly enough.

Officers said Dundon was despondent because he had been estranged from his wife, Grace, for several years, and had been in ill health.

He leaves his wife and three small children.

Elks Lodge To Dance Saturday

Richmond Lodge of Elks will entertain at a summer vacation dance on Saturday evening at the Elks clubrooms under the direction of A. G. Robertson and committee.

A large crowd is expected to attend the affair. Music will be furnished by a well known local orchestra, Robertson announced.

The affair will be for Elks and their ladies, only.

Delegates To Conclave Named By Townsends

Delegates to the Cleveland convention were elected last evening when the Richmond Townsend Club No. 1 held its meeting at W. O. W. hall.

After a long meeting, a vote was taken and Dr. James Heady and Isaac Lester were named to attend the convention as representatives of Townsend Club No. 1.

The nominating committee announced that it will make its report at the next meeting of the organization.

George Black presided over the meeting.

French Ships Fly Red Flag

MARSEILLES, June 22—UP—Red flags flew from the mast of ships in this harbor tonight as 4000 merchant seamen went out on strike.

Officers offered to join the seamen if they would remove the red flags and evacuate the ships, but the strikers refused. Officials of the Marseilles Ship Owners Association appealed to the government to take immediate action against the strikers.

Timeplan installment financing
meets your every loan requirement

"Timeplan" is the copyrighted name which describes all of the various types of installment credit loans with which Bank of America meets the financial needs of the individual. Remember the name "Timeplan"—remember, too, that when you establish your credit at Bank of America by making a Timeplan loan for any purpose, you have established your credit once and for all for making additional Timeplan loans for other financial needs. Timeplan assures you of completely confidential service. Repayment terms are arranged to fit your income.

Under the National Housing Act you may borrow to buy or build a home, any amount from $1000 to $16,000 (up to 80% of appraised value of both lot and improvements, as determined by FHA appraisal). EXAMPLE: If appraised value of house and lot is $5,000, you may borrow up to $4,000. Monthly payments on a 15-year loan are approximately $42, including taxes, insurance, interest and repayment of principal.

Bank of America Timeplan automobile financing brings you a low cost plan for the purchase of a new or used car (not over 3 years old). All arrangements are made with the Bank. You are assured of the lowest financing cost. The plan provides for insurance which protects you, arranged, if you wish, through your own insurance broker or agent.

The Bank of America personal loan plan is a convenient source of funds for the payment of taxes, insurance premiums, hospital, medical or dental bills, or for meeting any legitimate emergency. Any employed individual of good character may apply for Timeplan personal loan. The cost of a Timeplan personal loan is exactly 36 per year for each $100 borrowed. You receive the full amount of the loan you require—there are no deductions. Repayment may be made within one year in monthly installments.

This Timeplan financing is arranged for the convenience of the purchaser entirely through the store or dealer to finance the deferred balance on the purchase of refrigerators, ironers, washing machines and other designated appliances. These loans are completed in the store when the purchase is made and they give you all the advantages of bank credit with repayment arranged in convenient monthly sums.

Timeplan modernization loans, under the provisions of F.H.A., enable the borrower to name the maturity of his loan from 1 to 5 years. Timeplan modernization loans cover the repair, alteration, and modernization of homes, apartments, stores and farm buildings. Rates are the lowest available. Repayment is arranged in monthly sums.

Timeplan establishes your credit for all purposes

Expectant Mother Must Have Balanced Diet to Produce a Perfect Child

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IN THE MAY issue of a current magazine, Dr. Edward Lyman Cornell, assistant professor of obstetrics, Northwestern Medical School, describes the foods required by a mother and her unborn child. The information is of such importance to so many women who want to know what they should eat, that I feel the high-light of this article will be helpful to many expectant mothers.

They are told they must eat for two, but few realize just what that means. The mother-to-be must supply her own needs and keep up her reserve. She must also supply the energy and material to build up this small human body within her. She is the foundation of a future human being, and the more perfect the foundation, the better the finished product will be.

Diets Will Differ

Much thought and judgment must be given to this question of food, and it is well to consult your physician early. What is suitable for one woman may not be proper for another. The mother's ability to digest and assimilate foods in sufficient quantity must determine her diet. There are four kinds of food: proteins, fats, carbohydrates (starches and sugars) and minerals. Contained in these must be the vitamins necessary for normal growth. The mother should be fed all these things in sufficient quantity not only to preserve her own body from hunger, but to supply the wants and necessities of the growing infant. No definite quantity can be prescribed for all women. Each one is an individual with certain work to do, and each one must be fed according to conditions. The diet that was sufficient for her sister-in-law or neighbor may be totally inadequate and even harmful for her. For that reason each woman must study her own case and consult her physician early and often.

Eat for Two

The expectant mother who is tired and worn out all the time may not be eating enough food to keep herself in good health. It is quite common to have them complain that the baby is extremely active and its movements prevent rest and sleep. Many times this means that the baby is hungry and needs food. This has been proven to be a fact in many cases, by feeding the mother some predigested food such as corn syrup. Within fifteen or twenty minutes the baby becomes quiet. All the food the mother eats must be digested and absorbed into her blood stream. It is then carried to the placenta or afterbirth through which the baby is supplied with food and oxygen from the mother's blood.

All the nourishment and elements that the baby receives, such as proteins, fats, carbohydrates and minerals are received from its mother's blood in a digested and assimilable form. From these ingredients nature manufactures the factors to make the anatomy of a perfect child. The bones, muscles, nerves and blood are constructed in some mysterious way that is entirely beyond our comprehension.

If the material is adequate, there will be a well-formed frame, a brain, muscles, heart, lungs, stomach and intestines all ready to perform their work properly when the structure is completed. At the time of birth this being ceases to obtain its nourishment and oxygen from its mother, and in an instant is able to breathe, move, cry and perform all the functions of life.

Short Cuts

Brass knockers and door-knobs will stay bright longer even though exposed to the elements if they are rubbed with paraffin after cleaning and then polished with a soft cloth.

Pillows may be washed without removing the feathers. Scrub in a weak washing soda solution, using good suds. Repeat in a second sud.

If necessary, rinse in two or three lukewarm washes. Squeeze out excess water and place on sheet in a warm place, preferably in the sun. Beat pillows at intervals while drying.

Lacquered copper will keep in good condition if rubbed occasionally with a cloth dipped in kerosene.

Oranges and lemons to be grated should be washed well beforehand to remove soil from handling.

If your home is equipped with casement windows, oil the hinges occasionally to prevent their rusting and squeaking.

Before washing a sweater, make sure to brush it carefully, turning out the pockets or cuffs to rid it of excess dust. Use lukewarm water and a mild soap.

Cooking a Rare Art to June Platt

By TALBOT LAKE

THERE are a great many people to whom cooking is a chore. Few regard it as a great art. June Platt is one of the latter.

She is a young, comely matron, married to Joseph B. Platt, the artist. Well known as a muralist, she is even more famous as a cook. Her recipes are extremely original. Here are some of the titles: Alligator Pear a la Tahiti, Shad Roe Mousse, Skate Wings with Bourne Noisette, Pheasants in Cream, Pumpkin Pudding, Simpler and more understandable things are Chicken Stuffed with Apples, Duck a l'Orange, Blazing Baked Alaska and Praline Custard. Very simple things are known as Poached Leg of Lamb, Salt Cod Benedictine or Squigzled Eggs.

The recipes are very interesting indeed, and are written in disarmingly simple language in a book she has just had published called, "June Platt's Party Cookbook." It makes delightful and mouth watering reading, but means hours of careful labor in the kitchen. Cooking a la June Platt is not the easiest job in the world for the rank amateur.

Cooking has been her passion ever since she ate. As a very little girl she was placed in a convent school in Paris. Then she lived with an English family at Ripon, Yorkshire, where she absorbed the best English food and way of preparing it.

Next she visited her grandmother at Bloomington, Ill., and learned about soda biscuits from her. At the age of eight she started working her way through the White House Cookbook in New York City and from them on she was on her long cooking career.

At the convent school in Paris they had cabbage soup for breakfast, luncheon and dinner. Needless to say, June Platt never serves it, and she won't tell you how to make it in her cookbook.

Many Ways To Use Eau De Cologne

By JACQUELINE HUNT

PROBABLY not one girl in a hundred understands the distinction between toilet water and eau de Cologne, although there is a real difference. Toilet waters are essentially a form of perfume which permits freer use than a concentrated essence.

The original eau de Cologne, on the other hand, is a compound of citrus oils, usually lemon, orange, bergamot and others, to which is added such fragrances as lavender and rosemary or thyme, the whole having a distinctive, spicy, refreshing aroma.

The modern trend, however, is to make an eau de Cologne with the basic toilet water characteristics. As a result we have new flower-scented ones that are really delightful to use.

A good eau de Cologne has many uses besides serving as a friction after your bath or a summer perfume. It is especially handy now that you are using suntan oil so freely. Tuck a bottle of eau de Cologne and a piece of cotton into your beach bag, and use to remove the oil from your skin when you are ready to come in. You will not have the usual difficulties when you step under your shower before dressing. It also leaves your skin fresh, firm and cool.

Carry a bottle with you when you travel. Choose your favorite fragrance if you like it perfumed, and sponge a little on your temples when you feel weary or have a headache. Use it as a skin cleanser, too. The French woman wouldn't think of making a journey, however brief, without a bottle of it to insure her freshness.

Use it as an all-over body rub after your shower or tubbing. It closes the pores, cools the skin and at the same time leaves a precious fragrance. Drop a few drops into the rinse water when you wash your lingerie and you will have an elusive perfume about you at all times.

Add a dash to your hair brush when you set your waves and it will give your hair a pleasing and elusive scent.

A certain beauty editor who likes to work in her garden suggests that eau de Cologne rubbed on the arms, legs and neck before working outside will keep the most persistent mosquito at a safe distance. I haven't tried it yet, but I believe that it will work because many of the suntan oils will discourage insects.

If you do not remember to apply eau de Cologne to prevent the insects' bites, use it afterward as a pleasant and soothing antiseptic for bites and other skin irritations. This is a suggestion for the vacationist far from her medicine chest.

Eau de Cologne is nice for scenting your bath. Sprinkle a few drops into the tub before getting in. After drying yourself thoroughly, pat a little under the arms and across your shoulders to discourage excessive perspiration.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Please tell me if there is any cream or oil that will really prevent or delay the pain of a bad sunburn. I have a thin, sensitive skin that burns and freckles easily. Is there a bleach that would harmlessly and efficiently bleach my freckles?—Joy A."

ANSWER: Do all in your power to prevent sunburn in the first place. There are some skins like yours that will not tan no matter how much you expose them to the sun. But they will burn unless you use a liberal coating of foundation cream or an anti-sun cream before you expose your skin to the blazing hot sun for any length of time. You must wear shady brimmed hats or carry a parasol.

A protective make-up will prevent the development of freckles. Once they form, you can only hasten their natural fading by using pure, undiluted lemon juice or one of the prepared lemon lotions for the purpose.

QUESTION: "Is there a good depilatory that will take the hair off my arms, legs and under-arms without discoloring the skin? I have tried the wax depilatory, but it was not very satisfactory. —N. C."

ANSWER: I do not know what kind of depilatory you could have been using that discolors your skin. Almost any of the cream or paste types of depilatory can be used safely on these areas. However, when removing hair from such large areas, shaving is usually as satisfactory as anything else. You do a quicker job and it will not have to be repeated often enough to cause the hairs to stiffen. If the hairs are fine, you might use a bleach such as the one recommended in a recent column.

Flowers That Bloom in Spring

This spring-like dinner dress, worn by Loretta Young, screen actress, is made of two different printed silks combined with a scarf of net. A deep full blouse of white and yellow daisies and scarlet poppies printed on black is applied on a princess top of black printed in smaller white and yellow daisies. With deep V neck and elbow sleeves, this fashionable gown is enhanced by a huge square of black silk net.

Speaking of Style Dishes for Today

By JUDITH WILSON

MAKING up your week's shopping list in the summer isn't difficult if you build your menus around the meat you expect to serve. Select at least one good sized cut of meat that can be served hot the first time, sliced for a cold dinner the second, and the remainder used for a meat pie, curried dish or forcemeat for stuffed vegetables.

Most families enjoy at least one picnic each week, so you can count on frankfurters, small steaks or scrambled eggs and bacon as the basis for another meal. Build your menu around fish or a vegetable platter with a hot fruit cobbler one evening. That leaves you only two dinners to worry about.

A mixed grill is quick and easy to prepare; canned ham or roast chicken that can be dressed in your favorite way and heated in a very hot oven will not take more than half an hour, and are good suggestions.

MODERN WOMEN

Mrs. Martin Chats With an Unappreciative Girl and With a Troubled Widow

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

IT TAKES a callous person to willfully inflict a wound on youth. Both my correspondents today are in this position because they must, or in any event will, bruise a young spirit. That the bruise will heal is some consolation. It is inevitable that there should arise situations in life in which one must hurt someone who has been kind, or someone who cares deeply.

It's unfair to accept all and give nothing. It's just as unfair on the part of the one who gives to expect the other to be grateful for doing something that brings them pleasure.

"My dear Mrs. Martin," Mrs. Martin has just been graduated from high school and wants to ask your advice about a boy who has been going with in school. He is a nice fellow but, frankly, now that school is over, I want to drop him. He has been very sweet with me and I think he loves me, but I don't love him, and don't intend to spoil my chances by going around with him.

When the child, either by experiment or observation, learns that matches can be lighted by scratching them, the problems of the parents increase. Many children will steal matches to satisfy this interest. To correct the habit, parents should be warned not to scold or spank the child the first time he lights a match. Such treatment usually tends to intensify the child's determination to light more matches.

The training should begin early, and under no circumstances should matches be lighted for the child's amusement. After a cigarette has been lighted, the match should be blown out immediately if the child is near. To strike one match after another, simply because the child shows interest, will work a double harm. First it gives the youngster the idea that matches are playthings, and secondly, it is a waste of matches.

It will do no harm to let the child blow out a match occasionally. The idea the parent should convey in this case is that the match has done its work and that no more are needed. Don't light another just because the child asks you to. Tell him that matches are not playthings, but are used only to light the stove or a cigarette. After that, the parent should say, the match has done its work.

When information is given in an offhand way at the proper time, whether it has to do with matches or not, the child is inclined to accept the parent as his word. In the case of matches, however, to tell a child why he mustn't play with them is not enough. The temptation of scratching the most highly polished finish. Its cellular structure makes it very absorbent, the largest size taking up more than a quart of water—a quality which simplifies the wiping of spilled liquids and saves time in washing a large surface.

Sponge of Cellulose
A new type of sponge, made of cellulose, is bringing fresh zest to household cleaning tasks, as well as extra comfort and convenience as an aid to personal cleanliness. This man-made sponge, available in four sizes, is rectangular in shape, providing a flat surface with square corners that rout the dirt from sharp angles and crevices on woodwork and furniture. It is unusually tough and durable and becomes soft and pliable when wet, eliminating the possibility of scratching the most highly polished finish. Its cellular structure makes it very absorbent, the largest size taking up more than a quart of water—a quality which simplifies the wiping of spilled liquids and saves time in washing a large surface.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

THREE QUIT IN ALAMEDA GRAFT ROW

Immediate investigation were:

THREE DESIGN

Sherman G. Blood, city clerk.
William J. Locke, city attorney.
Frank Creely, special assistant to the city attorney.

The three public officials resigned, they said, when they presented "uncontrovertible proof of an astounding and deplorable situation involving the city of Alameda and bearing all the earmarks of moral turpitude" to Mayor Hans W. Roewe and the City Council, demanding that Fritz be forced to resign.

RESIGN POSTS

Refusal of the Mayor and Council to act caused them to tender their own resignation, the officials said, to be reconsidered only if conditions charged are remedied.

Warren subpoenaed Locke, Blood, Fritz and a city employee, R. O. Bryant. The latter, a member of the City Street Department, charged that Fritz demanded and received $1600 which Bryant had collected from other city employees for their civil service association. Warring was told. No receipt was given, Bryant said, and he is now $1500 short in his accounts.

Fritz, waiting to testify before the Grand Jury in Oakland, made counter charges that the whole thing was "strictly political."

year, electrical signs $25 per year and most other businesses in El Cerrito at $3 per year. A fee of $10 per day for each house to house distributor was suggested.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Application of the Club Jade for permit to operate a skill ball game was placed on file as the city has quick ordinance at the present time governing this business.

The letter, signed by Dortha Dolan, as secretary, stated the company had invested about $10,000 in the building and equipment and would employ mostly local people.

PAYMENT APPROVED

A payment of $2200 was approved by the Council for the Independent Construction Company for the improvement of Cutting boulevard. Street Commissioner J. R. Beck said the Council was holding back $1,000 to assure that the work would be finished to the satisfaction of the city engineer and Council and would probably be completed within the next two weeks.

PERMIT GIVEN

The Council granted a permit to the Alela Tribe of Redmen to construct a reviewing stand on Potrero avenue in conjunction with their carnival.

WPA Worker Killed In Fall On Rocks

REDWOOD CITY, June 22.—A fall on rocks while fishing caused the death of Eulyses Meguiness, 33, WPA worker, at the Redwood City Harbor on San Francisco bay. Meguiness, who had been employed as a timekeeper at a PWA project at Mills Field (San Francisco municipal airport) was pulled from the water by witnesses to his fall. An examination disclosed his skull was fractured when he struck the rocks.

RADICALS' VOTES TO BE SOUGHT

s one of those things that happens at every political convention and after an hour or two of oratory the committee votes on which delegation to seat.

That was not the kind of choice Democrats made today with Al Smith and Governor Eugene Talmadge sniping at them from the right and the Lemke leaders harassing on the left. The committee split the 22 votes gave each delegate half a vote and seated both delegations.

WEDGE IS WIDENED

There will be more of such happenings before Saturday, and every day will drive a wider wedge between the men who control this convention and the old-line, conservative Democrats.

Outside of Philadelphia the opposition fired away at the New Deal. John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, spoke in New York in an unofficial opening of the Landon campaign in the East. In Washington the Lemke leaders began conferences designed to cement the support of Dr. Francis Townsend and the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, heir to the remnants of Huey P. Long's "share the wealth" clubs.

REED TO AID LANDON

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri who joined Smith and three other conservative Democrats in urging that Mr. Roosevelt be "put aside," indicated he may take the stump against the New Deal. Talmadge, sulking in Atlanta because Democrats are going to renounce Mr. Roosevelt, joined the demand that the convention repudiate Roosevelt. He said he would march with the Smith forces so long as they did not lead him outside the Democratic party and force him to support a Republican.

STRANGE SILENCE

Out of all this gloom came one lance of sunlight for the New Dealers. The bald little man who is the best vote getter New York State ever saw came to town today, and, after long years, made his choice between Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Governor Herbert Lehman, until this morning, had been the one man in politics who, held and valued the friendship of both Mr. Roosevelt and Smith.

The meeting of the Democratic national committee was harmonious, but there was silence when the names of Talmadge and Joseph P. Ely of Massachusetts were called as committeemen from their respective states. The members present looked at one another, and the thought was in every mind that these two men—off taking a walk with Al Smith—might never return to party councils.

strong Jewish accent. He is shown addressing a crowd in the Reich, extolling Olsen and Johnson and their act.

TALKS LIKE AMOS

Premier Mussolini, is pictured on a balcony, gesturing and having a long crowd of fascists.

Interspersed among his remarks is the booming, melodious voice of "Amos" of the "Amos and Andy" radio team, replying to Mussolini with a series of "yowans."

FORMAL PROTEST

Queen Marie is heard praising Olsen and Johnson in the sugary voice used by Mae West. She concludes her "endorsement" by inviting the audience to "come up and see it some time."

Spokesmen for Mayor Rossi said Dr. August Ponschab, Acting German Consul, had filed a formal protest with the office, and had asked that the picture be stopped. At the same time, they said numerous Italians, many of them prominent citizens and civic leaders, had asked that the skit be discontinued.

put in the field and a complete survey of the flats and apartments was made. The figures for the residences was furnished by Perasso Bros. The city manager after making his investigation recommended to the Council that the Richmond Scavenger company was the low bidder. Under its call the Council was duty bound to award the contract as it did. It has done its duty in every way, I am satisfied that when the matter is tried out in the courts, that the action that has been taken here tonight will be sustained."

CAPACITY CROWD

The chamber of the Council held a capacity crowd when the meeting was opened, and the first business was the disposal of the garbage bids. Councilman George F. Imbach started the ball rolling by asking that consideration of the bids go over two weeks, as the senior counsel, Clifford Anglin, was in the East. Mrs. Chandler then seconded the motion, and on roll call the motion was lost by a vote of 5 to 3. The ayes were Imbach, Chandler and Hinkley. The noes were Ripley, Tiller, Johnson, Ludwig and Scott.

TELLS OF SURVEY

Then City Manager J. A. McVittie made a detailed report of his survey, which showed that the total bid of Perasso Bros. was $788.55 and that of the Richmond Scavenger company $746.65. A motion to award the contract was then made by Councilman Sam Ripley, seconded by Councilman Walter Johnson, and then the arguments started.

ARGUMENT STARTS

Attorney Tsar N. Calfee, appeared for Tony Mazza, whose bid was refused consideration, Attorney Leo Marcollo appeared for Perasso Bros. Both made, masterly arguments, maintaining that the call for bids was indefinite, that some bidders were shut out, and further that the Perasso Bros. bid was really the lowest, if second collections were taken into consideration, and that they might possibly amount to.

Attorney T. H. DeLap, representing the Richmond Scavenger company argued that under the recommendation of the city manager there was but one thing to do, and that was to award the contract to his firm. He asserted his firm had given the city satisfactory service for 20 years, before the contract was taken away; that they had posted their bond, and were prepared to put up the $2,500 cash bond, and carry out the contract, if it was awarded to them.

FAVORS LOW BIDDER

Attorney C. D. Horner, representing a group of property owners, made a talk before the recommendation of the city manager was made, asserting that there was but one thing for the Council to do, and that was to award the low bidder the contract as it had adopted the policy of bidding and should follow it out to its conclusion.

SCENTS ETHIOPIAN

Deputy County Clerk Walter Paasch, also spoke on the question, claiming there was a nigger in the woodpile somewhere, but he failed to enlighten the Council as to just where it was.

THE VOTE

Then came the motion to award the contract to the Richmond Scavenger company, made by Councilman Sam Ripley, seconded by Councilman Walter Johnson.

The vote was as follows:
AYES: Ripley, Tiller, Johnson, Hinkley and Scott.
NOES: Imbach, Chandler, Ludwig.

Nye Denies He Will Bolt GOP

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—U.P.—Reports that Senator Gerald P. Nye, Republican, North Dakota, would "take a walk" from the Republican party because of its failure to endorse a strong neutrality plan, created considerable interest here tonight on the eve of the opening of the Democratic national convention.

Nye denied the reports vigorously when reached in Washington. Nevertheless, the rumors that he would join with Senator George W. Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and other Senate liberals persisted in hotel corridors where every delegate has a plank for the party platform.

DEATH WAS NATURAL

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—The Baroness Etta Rhymer Morrill, 52, died of natural causes, the coroner's office announced today after completion of an autopsy. Investigation into the death of the socially prominent Los Angeles woman, who claimed descent from the Hapsburgs, had been ordered by the District Attorney's office after interviews with several of her friends.
